R

This means to turn the question into a statement. Use words from the question stem in your statement.

Example question: What are some ways students can stop bullying in school?

A

Answer ALL parts of the question. Some questions have more than one part. Each part of the question should be answered in separate paragraphs.

Using our example question:

C

This means you will look back to the text to find specific examples that support your answer. Quote the text!

Use evidence based terms to begin your citation.

E

You will explain how this evidence supports your answer. You can use your own background knowledge and connections you made from your own experience.

S

You will take all of the given information that you've already shared, and make a statement that summarizes your paragraph.
